

Software Solutions for Academic Research

From a simple project to a complex multi-year study.

Primary.Health

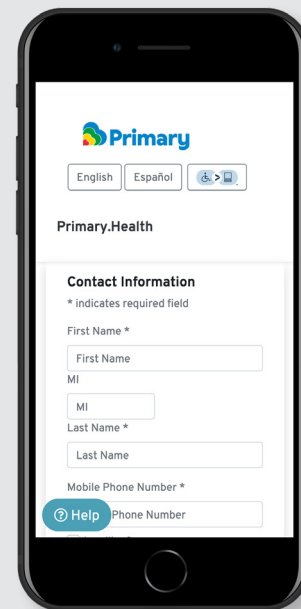

Our platform combines a consumer-friendly, low-barrier interface with a sophisticated back-end that integrates with and exports data to any other software. A turnkey solution to quickly and efficiently manage your research projects.

Key Features:

- Streamlined participant enrollment and consent randomization
- Targeted communication options (email, SMS, robo-call)
- Automated reminders
- Customized surveys and dissemination
- Simplified and automated data collection
- Compatible with smartphones, tablets, and computers
- Easily managed sample collection, barcoding, and lab orders
- Complex dashboarding and analytics
- Customizable to meet Institutional Review Board (IRB) standards
- Tech and call center support
- HIPAA-compliant portal available in 20+ languages
- Ability to fully integrate with REDCap or other research software

Simplified Electronic Data Capture All Study Types and Phases

Simple, Powerful & Built to Meet Your Needs

Free Trial Options Available

GET STARTED

Contact Us For a Demo

“Primary.Health’s web-based platform made registration and testing for the UofL Jefferson County study easy, effective and informative. Our findings helped us communicate with community residents how widespread COVID-19 infection rates were in the early days of this pandemic aiding in crushing the curve and saving lives.”

Rachel J. Keith, Ph.D., APRN, ANP-C
Assistant Professor of Medicine
University of Louisville

Our Partners Include
Academic Institutions
Public Health Agencies
Life Sciences

University of California
San Francisco

